

November 22, 2009

Dear Shareholders:

I just wanted to give a brief update. Financials were finished on Friday, but the attorney could not review them until Monday. Once they finish their review, we will post them, and that will bring us back to Pink Sheets Preferred.

We are working on a complete update with results of the commercials and the internet sales. We are breaking them down and will be giving a detailed plan for the balance of 2009, and the first quarter of 2010. We look forward to posting our plans.

We have worked on an Investors Holiday Site to purchase Re Juv by Caci Anti Aging System. Normally the cost is $59.95 for the complete system, plus $6.95 S&H. We are offering the system, to our Investors for $40.00 with Free Shipping. This is our way of saying thank you for all your support. Here is the link to buy.
